Enthralling tranquility at Pink Beach “Blue Mind”

Since ancient times, humans have assigned healing and transformational properties to water. Today, we still turn to water for a sense of calm and clarity. We spend our vacations on the beach and often build our lives and homes around being near the water.

Our affinity for water is even reflected in the near-universal attraction to the color blue. We're naturally drawn to aquatic hues and marketing research has found that people tend to associate it with qualities like calm, openness, depth and wisdom.

Wallace J. Nichols, a marine biologist, believes that we all have a "blue mind" -- as he puts it, "a mildly meditative state characterized by calm, peacefulness, unity, and a sense of general happiness and satisfaction with life in the moment" -- that's triggered when we're in or near water. Food offerings will embrace energy, health, and all day performance that is straightforward, simple, and identifiable. Emphasis on vegetables, grains and seafood, less red meat and carbohydrates. Very low in salt, fat and refined sugar.

All this while staying true to The Loren food mission of seasonality, sustainability and when possible locally sourced.
